Oxnard Man Convicted of Rape and Sexual Assault of Five Women

VENTURA, Calif. – Ventura County District Attorney Erik Nasarenko announced today that Dustin Ronald Alba (DOB 08/02/94), of Oxnard, was convicted by a jury on June 9, 2025, of nine felony counts of forcible sex acts, including rape, sodomy, and attempted forcible rape, on five separate victims. The jury also found true several special allegations and aggravating factors, including there being multiple victims, the victim was vulnerable, and Alba took advantage of a position of trust.

Alba's crimes took place from 2012 to 2020, occurring in Thousand Oaks, Oxnard, and Los Angeles. The victims, many of whom met Alba through dating apps or social media, describe dating or messaging with Alba before being forced into sexual acts, despite repeated pleas for him to stop. He would use his body weight to pin down the victims and ignore their objections.

In August of 2020, Alba met in person with a woman he had recently met on a dating app. The victim told him ahead of their meeting that she was not looking to "hook up." They spent the day together and ended up back at his Oxnard residence. Alba ripped her clothing, pulled her onto the bed, and proceeded to digitally penetrate and rape her, against her will. Terrified, the victim complied with his demands. Once free, she reported what happened to police.

As the Ventura County Sheriff's Office investigated that case, Alba's cell phone was searched and provided detectives with text messages showing other women who had been victimized, sexually assaulted, and raped by Alba. Further investigation into Alba's history of sexual assault led to four additional victims. One of these victims was under the age of 18 at the time she was sexually abused by Alba.

Deputy District Attorney Rosa Romero, a member of the Ventura County District Attorney's Office Sexual Assault Unit, prosecuted the case.

“I extend my sincere gratitude to the jury for their diligent and thoughtful examination of all the evidence,” Ms. Romero said. “While justice for these victims was delayed, their verdict means that it was not denied. I sincerely hope that this decision offers the victims a sense of closure as they move forward in their healing process.”

Alba is scheduled to be sentenced on July 9, 2025, at 9:00 a.m. in courtroom 25 of the Ventura County Superior Court. He remains in custody without bail and faces 111 years to life in state prison.
